

Plasma Saal Health Centre

Plasma Saal Health Centre - A fusion of the latest technologies and a natural holistic approach to healing

NUTRIENT TEST

Dear Client,

Welcome and thank you for choosing the Plasma Saal Health Centre. At Plasma Saal we combine cutting edge technologies in the field of quantum medicine with a holistic approach to human health. We are happy to offer you the Quantum Hair Sample Analysis (QSHA) – a non-invasive, detailed and quick health assessment and analysis.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Our bodies provide us with information about our emotional, mental and physical states. In the same way that the iris of an eye or a fingerprint contain unique information about each of us, hair also carries various types of energies which are a part of us. With just a small lock of hair we can assess vital information about your current health state and assist you in a healing process.

Did you know that hair grows approximately 1 cm per month and stays on a head 2-6 years before it falls out! So, a single hair sample gathers and stores all types of information about us. For example, a hair shaft absorbs and accumulates chemicals, and any toxins that our body is exposed to (e.g. food, water, air, environment).

Each of us is a unique individual, responding differently to similar environments and foods, and there is no “one-size-fits-all” formula. Therefore, the hair samples are unique bioindicators. They can, for example, reveal any mineral deficiencies, presence of heavy metals and other toxic elements, as well as food intolerance and/or nutrients overloads. Furthermore, the hair sample analysis can determine which supplements would be the best to support your health, for example homeopathic and Bach flower remedies, or types of essential oils (e.g. Young Living, doTerra).

INNOVATIVE TECHNOLOGY OF THE FUTURE

Quantum Hair Sample Analysis is based on the Quantum Response Technology and provides both biofeedback and bioresonance analysis.

Quantum Response device applies scalar waves produced by Tesla coils to scan your hair sample and capture your unique energetic imprint. This imprint is stored and used to get a wide variety of information about your physical health, energetic, emotional and mental states.

This test identifies in your body specific nutrient deficiency or/and sufficiency. A nutrient is a substance in a body that provides essential nourishments for a healthy life maintenance. It effects the energy and biological value of food, including proteins, carbohydrates, fats, fiber, water, vitamins and minerals.

NAME: JOHN DOE

ID NUMBER: XXX-XXX-XXX

Plasma Saal Health Centre

Our nutrient test shows levels of major nutrients in your body. Based on the results, our experts will advise you about which nutrients should be added in your diet for your health improvement.

Too High Nutrients

Nutrients that need to be lowered in the body

Right amount of nutrients

Normal range of nutrients in the body

Fair amount of nutrients

Low nutrients in the body
Add this nutrient with food

NEED

The most needed nutrients in the body
Add this nutrient with food and high-quality supplements

Please contact us at: plasmaaal@gmail.com, +385 99 4574 631; +44 7772 418878;

Check next page for your results -> -> ->